

separate occasions. Mr. President, I believe we will commence this morning's discussion with Section 33 of the...Section 33 of the bill, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT: Senator Warner, are you going to begin...Oh, Senator Wehrbein, okay.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Mr. Speaker and members, I'm in Section 33 on the Department of Correctional Services, for everybody's enlightenment, soon as I find my sheet of paper. This has to do with increasing the personal services limitation for the Department of Corrections to allow for several one-time and ongoing expenditures. The leap year payroll, 27th payroll, fiscal year '87-88, and money for retirement expenditures. It also includes four FTE corporals at the Hastings Correctional Center, that is for additional guards out there. There is a demand there for higher security than had originally been planned. There is also two FTE parole officers which accounts for increasing parole load on parolees, and a collective bargaining increase having to do with a shift....Back up. It's a shift differential for registered nurses and the budgeting of a guard and the amount of overtime pay, then in addition the amendment, committee amendment number 28 increases the personal services limitation $403,476 to allow for collective bargaining increases. That is the committee amendment and I would move adoption of the committee amendment. I guess, Pat, I took that up already. Do you want me to discuss that, too, the committee amendment?

PRESIDENT: Yes, please.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: That basically is it for this section, unless there are questions.

PRESIDENT: Are there any...any further discussion on the committee amendment? Okay, now we have an amendment to the committee amendments by Senator Hall. Is anybody authorized to handle that? Senator Wehrbein, do you know anything about that?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: No, I don't.

PRESIDENT: Senator Nelson.

SENATOR NELSON: Is that on 846, the drug abuse?
